Where time slows down

Thank you for choosing to stay in our home. You are about 300 metres above sea level, in a tiny medieval village with just seventy residents. Life moves at a different pace here: doors are left open, eggs are shared from neighbour to neighbour, the vegetable gardens mark the passing of the seasons, and on Friday evenings we gather at the village club for a game of Burraco.

We've chosen to preserve this way of life, suspended between silence and simplicity. You'll find all the comforts you need, but if your phone connection happens to slow down, take it as an invitation: put your screen away, take a deep breath, and let nature tell you the rest of the story.

About us

My name is Martina, and I have been surrounded by the countryside for as long as I can remember.

About ten years ago, I chose to move to Fibbiallya, where I continue to nurture my love for nature, long walks, and the vegetable garden I tend with patience and care.

Since 2019, Sansone, my dog, has been by my side, teaching me even more about the value of patience and being present in the moment.

Over the years, this house has become a retreat not only for me, but also for friends, a place where we can slow down, reconnect, and enjoy a simpler, more authentic way of life.
